Summary

Hello everyone!

Let me introduce myself, my name is Alvin Sidiq, and you can call me Alvin. I come from Bali, a captivating island in Indonesia. Currently, I am pursuing my education at STMIK Bandung Bali, where I am pursuing my passion in the world of technology.

I am deeply interested in web development, which is why I am currently enrolled in the MSIB program at Dicoding, focusing specifically on honing my skills as a front-end and back-end developer. I believe that with a strong understanding of both aspects, I can create innovative and beneficial technological solutions for society.

In addition to learning, I also enjoy exploring various concepts and new technologies in the software development world. I believe that learning never stops, and I always strive to continue growing and expanding my knowledge.

Thank you for this opportunity to share about myself. I am very excited to keep learning and contributing to the technology industry in the future.

Warm regards,
Alvin Sidiq
